What is CSA? CSA stands for “community supported agriculture.” It is a new approach to our food system that strengthens the bond between farmers and the communities they serve. Community members commit in advance to support a farm through their food purchases. Farmers commit to supply community members with a good variety of wholesome produce, as fresh as any money can buy.

Shared Risk - Shared Reward

Farming is a very risky business enterprise. CSA members help stabilize and secure a future for farms in their communities by sharing this risk. So if it's a hot summer, members will get lots of tomatoes and cucumbers, if it rains all season they might have to make do with lettuce and carrots.

How our CSA works.

- ⇒ Shares are for a 20 week season, June through mid-October.
- ⇒ Shares cost $440, and include a variety of common vegetables plus a few more exotic ones and occasional fruit. Payment is in advance (call us about installment options).
- ⇒ Winter Storage Vegetable Shares are $100, and are for pickup at the farm on November 14-15.
- ⇒ Members may divide a share with others picking up at the same site.
- ⇒ We deliver pre-packed shares for pick up: at the farm, at Fishers Landing C-Tran and at West 28th St. in Vancouver.

Sign Up Schedule

- Through February 15: returning member sign ups
- February 15 - March 1: waiting list sign ups

The Farmers * Diane and Jim Hunter have owned and operated Hunters' Greens Farm in Brush Prairie since 1996. We have operated our CSA since 2001. We farm following sustainable practices without using pesticides or synthetic fertilizers.

Jim is a lifelong student of agriculture and community activist. Diane raised a family and kept books for a small business before pursuing her dream of rescuing historic buildings and abandoned pets.

Jim and Diane aim to demonstrate a simple sustainable lifestyle through their farming and rescue efforts.

Helping Hands Access to wholesome food is a fundamental human right. Hunters' Greens accepts donations from the fortunate to help make our wholesome food affordable for the struggling. Call us if you can lend a hand, or if you, or some one you know could use a hand. 256-3788
